Morrison Should Leave Dec-31

People around the world are beginning to look at Kansas as a state where the wheels of state government have "fallen-off-the-wagon".

Newspapers around the nation, and internet Blogs, are publishing things about Kansas state government that certainly do not make the citizens of Kansas proud. Now, with Morrison scheduled to be "on the job" so to speak, for another FULL MONTH, the reputation of Kansas could be in the mud a lot longer than it needs to be!

While it is understandable that Morrison wanted to take full advantage of the financial wage and benefits perks of staying on through the Christmas Holidays, it is asking way too much of the people of Kansas for him to stay "on the job" for another full month, especially as we learn more about what "on the job" meant to Paul Morrison.

Clearly, the office of Attorney General would be able to operate much more smoothly, without Morrison underfoot, than it will be able to with him there for another month. Important challenges lay ahead for that office, and victims of crime deserve better than this. In situations like this, it is always better for other capable management staff to take the reins of the office, rather than for them to be burdened by a disgraced leader who should have been long gone.

The day Morrison resigned, he should have gone in, cleaned out his desk, and turned in his keys! The fact that it was not done that way, certainly does not look good for the Governor.

Our Governor seems to be satisfied with a non-functioning Attorney General's office for another full month! ...all for the sake of a better retirement benefit package for a disgraced leader?

Is it any wonder that the rest of the nation is making jokes about Kansas state government?

In addition to the Morrison scandal, which looks worse with each passing day, Operation Rescue has rightly called for the resignation or firing of the Kansas State Board of Healing Arts Executive Director, Larry Buening, along with his Chief Counsel, Mark Stafford.

The Kansas Coalition for Life strongly supports Operation Rescue's call.

Larry Buening and Mark Stafford have sat idly by, while abortionists in Wichita and Kansas City have made a mockery of Kansas laws, and while a doctor in Haysville, with the full knowledge of the State Board of Healing Arts, acted as a drug dealer, causing the overdose-deaths of 56 people. That in addition to money laundering and health care fraud! The Federal Government had to step in, only because Kansas State Government failed so miserably.

It would be nice to get a fresh start in 2008, but with each passing day, the mud gets deeper, and the Governor seems less and less concerned about the mess that Kansas State Government is in today.
