

Life Principles

In 1974, "MARCH FOR LIFE" developed these Life Principles to express the ideals motivating most prolife Americans. Many, but not all, proLife groups in the United States and around the world have adopted these principles as part of their own bylaws, guidelines and constitutions.

We hold these truths to be self-evident: That all human beings are created equal and are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, among which is the right to life, and, THEREFORE;

The right to life of each human being shall be preserved and protected by every human being in the society and by the society as a whole. And,

The life of each human being shall be preserved and protected from that human being's biological beginning when the Father's sperm fertilizes the Mother's ovum. And,

The life of each human being shall be preserved and protected from the biological beginning throughout the natural continuum of that human being's life by all available ordinary means and reasonable efforts. And,

The life of each human being shall be preserved and protected at each stage of the life continuum to the same extent as at each and every other stage regardless of state of health or condition of dependency. And,

The life of each human being shall be preserved and protected to the same extent as the life of each and every other human being regardless of state of health or condition of dependency. And,

When there is any doubt that there exists a human being's life to preserve and protect, such doubt shall be resolved in favor of the existence of a human being. And,

When two or more human beings are in a situation in which their lives are mutually endangered, all available ordinary means and reasonable efforts shall be used to preserve and protect the life of each and every human being so endangered.

WHEREFORE, pursuant to these principles, we recommend and urge the adoption of a HUMAN LIFE AMENDMENT to the Constitution of the United States of America.
